

ENGLAND PAYS TRIBUTE TO REMAINS OF THE QUEEN

Ten Miles of Picked Warships Escorting the Body to London for the Funeral.

GREAT PAGEANT IN LONDON TOMORROW

Procession in Capital City Will Be Most Brilliant and Impressive Ever Seen There—Immense Crowds—All Business Suspended.

Cowes, Feb. 1.—Today the British navy is paying its tribute to Queen Victoria. Ten miles of warships, the pick of the British, French and German fleets, are in line following the remains to London.

At the head of the line are the old paddle-wheel royal yachts, their somber hulls standing out in marked contrast against the huge white sides of the Hohenzollern. Then, in single column, come the British battleships. Half way to Portsmouth the single line merges into a stately double row, the vessels of the foreign nations and the biggest craft of the British lying there saluted the body of England's lamented queen.

At 1:45 p. m. the coffin was borne from Osborne house by her majesty's highlander's and was placed on a gun carriage. The queen's company of the grenadier guards, with the queen's colors, were drawn up facing the entrance, presented arms and then wheeled about and opened outward, forming a double rank through which the gun carriage passed.

Form the Procession.
This escort marched on either side of the coffin, outside of the equestrians. The households of her late majesty and of Queen Edward and of Queen Alexandra and of the other members of the royal family formed up in the space outside the entrance and followed in the procession after the members of the royal family.

Massed bands formed upon the carriage drive and moved off as soon as the gun carriage reached the carriage drive. The military officers, royal servants, and tenants of the Osborne estate were formed up, eight abreast. In the carriage drive. The queen's pipers took their place immediately in front of the gun carriage and played from the house to the Queen's gate. The procession then moved off to the pier.

Troops Line Roadway.
The roadway from the gateway to the pier was lined with troops, in close order. The troops remained in position until the minute guns from the fleet commenced to fire. On the gun carriage being drawn up at the pier the coffin was removed from the gun carriage to the royal yacht, Alberta, by seamen from the royal yachts, in full dress with red striped overalls. The troops were in review order, with rolled great coats, haversacks, and water bottles.

Crimson Covered Bier.
The coffin containing the royal remains will repose in the crimson covered bier on the deck of the royal

FRANCE WATCHES KAISER.

William's Reception in England Taken to Mean Much Politically.

Paris, Feb. 1.—The reception accorded Emperor William of Germany in England, together with his appointment as field marshal in the British army, attracts much attention in France. Considerable political significance is attached to the cordial feeling manifested by the English press toward the emperor, whose prolonged stay in England and the exceptional number of German war vessels and German officials assembling for the funeral, are considered here somewhat in excess of the requirements of the circumstances. While it is thought improbable that England would bind itself to Germany by a definite alliance, the present attitude of the emperor, together with the recent Anglo-German understanding in China, is interpreted as significant of a better feeling between the two countries. However, the one international combi-

EXCURSION FROM EUROPE.

Four Importers Coming as Guests of American Millers.

St. Louis, Feb. 1.—Millers of St. Louis and vicinity have made arrangements for running a special excursion from the leading cities of Great Britain and the continent of Europe to St. Louis and other leading milling centers of the United States. Their purpose is to enable the principal importers of flour in Europe to visit this and other milling centers of America in order that the Europeans may become better acquainted with the advantages offered by American millers. A meeting was called at which about fifty millers were present. Kingsland Smith of London, England, explained the condition of the flour trade in Europe, and was enthusiastic in regard to the proposed excursion. He said the flour importers of the United Kingdom and the continent are the wealthiest and most influential merchants in Europe and that the export flour trade could Pilcher buried five Boers and took three prisoners. Our losses were one officer and one man killed and thirteen men wounded. De Wet crossed the Bloemfontein-Ladybrand line, near Israelsspoort. Bruce Hamilton, who was at the water works, was unable to get in touch with him. French engaged 2,000 Boers in the Wilge valley. The enemy had four killed and nine wounded. Our casualties were one killed and seven wounded."

URGE PASSAGE OF THE GROUT BILL

State Assembly Today Concurred in Senate Memorial to Congress.

TWO TELEPHONE BILLS

Complete Revision of Laws for Taxing Mortgages Expected This Session.

COOK DODGES ANTI-PASS VOTE

Madison, Wis., Feb. 1.—The assembly today concurred in the senate memorial to congress urging the passage of the Grout oleomargarine bill. There was a little flurry in the assembly over the anti-pass constitutional amendment which came up for its second reading and passage.

Colling endeavored to have it made a special order for Tuesday and this was defeated 36 to 31 and it went to the engrossment and third reading.

Two Telephone Bills.

Two important telephone bills were introduced in the assembly; one asking that telephone companies be taxed on property value instead of gross earnings and the other requiring that competing telephone companies receive and transmit messages for each other and fixing a rate of $4 per month in cities of one hundred thousand; $3.00 in 30,000, $2.50 in cities of 2,000 and $2 in cities under 2,000; also a long distance rate of ten cents per mile for one hundred miles or less.

Heavy penalties for violations are provided; a fine of from two to five hundred dollars for the first offense, five hundred to one thousand for the second, one to five thousand for the third and ten thousand for each subsequent offense.

Cook Dodges Anti-Pass Vote.

Alfred Cook, the new democratic member whose seat G. E. Vandercock is contesting dodged the issue on the anti-pass resolution. He was out but came in during the roll call and Roseman asked that Cook's vote be recorded. Cook said that he did not understand the situation. Speaker Ray explained, but Cook still asked to be excused from voting and he was permitted to do so.

FOR TAXING OF MORTGAGES.

Complete Revision of Laws Expected by the Legislature.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 1.—The joint apportionment committee of the legislature late yesterday afternoon began its work of redistricting the assembly, senatorial and congressional districts of Wisconsin. The committee of thirty members of the two houses divided themselves into ten subcommittees, each of which will frame a plan of assembly and senatorial districts in their respective congressional districts and report to the committee. All the members are then to decide territory that is in dispute. The congressional redistricting will not be undertaken until the legislative districts have been fixed.

To Tax Mortgages.

A complete revision of the laws governing the taxing of mortgages in this state will probably be made at this session of the legislature. Assemblyman Fred J. Frost has been in consultation with the state tax commission on the subject and has prepared a bill which he will soon introduce. The bill in the main will be drafted after the Massachusetts law. Under it

A GREAT FIRE IN KANSAS CITY; COATES' OPERA HOUSE DESTROYED

Flames Started Just After the Performance Late Last Night—Actors Barely Escape with Their Lives—Loss Over $150,000.

Kansas City, Feb. 1.—Fire late last night destroyed Coates' opera house, the principal theatre of Kansas City situated at Tenth street and Broadway and occupying a detached building.

Walker Whiteside and his company were playing Heart and Sword in the house and had just concluded the evening's performance when some of the actors discovered that the building was afire, the flames enveloping the whole rear part of the theatre in a few moments. The company lost their wardrobes and scenery being obliged to flee from their dressing rooms.

The firemen were helpless to check the flames, and directed their chief attention to the Coates hotel, diagonally across the street, the largest hotel in the city. Wind blew great showers of cinders upon the hotel, the guests were notified of their danger and some left the house but it was not damaged.

The audience had left the theatre only five minutes when the flames were discovered. The building was valued at between $125,000 and $150,000, and was insured for much less. It was one of the oldest and best known theatres in the west.

UNCLE SAM MAY FIGHT VENEZUELA; TROUBLE ASSUMES SERIOUS PHASE

Many Americans Are in Peril of Their Lives—Officials Demand the Surrender of Their Arms, and They Refuse To Do So.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—Important news in regard to the political revolution in Venezuela and the trouble over the possession of Pitch lake, held by the New York and Bermudez company, an American corporation, was contained in a telegram received at the State department from Minister Loomis at Caracas. Mr. Loomis said that the local officials in the province of Bermudez, in which Pitch lake is situated, had demanded the surrender of arms and ammunition belonging to the New York and Bermudez company, and that the Venezuelan government had informed the agent of the company that it would not interfere with any action the local officials might take. This brings the employees of the company at Pitch lake face to face with the question of fighting for the property which they hold. The situation is regarded as exceedingly serious, as a conflict at arms between Venezuelan officers and American citizens might involve the two countries in an embarrassing complication which would bring about strained relations. The United States government has taken the position that it cannot undertake to decide between the conflicting claims of the Bermudez company and the Warner and Quinlan company of Syracuse. It has informed the Venezuelan government and the rival American asphalt concerns that the controversy must be left to the adjudication of the Venezuelan courts, and that it will not interfere unless there is an obvious denial of justice or unlawful injury to the lives or property of American citizens. In view of this attitude of the American government an attack by the authorities of the state of Bermudez on the employees of the New York and Bermudez company might bring about serious trouble between the United States and Venezuela.

HUNT FOR A WILD MAN IN WISCONSIN

Hayton Citizens Chase Creature Covered with Hair Into a Swamp—Dogs and Hunters Flee.

Hayton, Wis., Feb. 1.—There was a wild man hunt here yesterday afternoon. A creature, evidently a man, but so utterly unkempt and fierce in aspect as to baffle description, but covered with a thick matted growth of hair, sent a thrill of horror through those who saw it walk toward the Manitowoc river. When it reached the stream it waded through the water which was above its neck and icy cold. Recovering from the momentary terror, men banded together and with dogs and guns started on the trail, which led to the large swamp north of the village. Hither and thither through brakes and thickets bounded the creature, eluding the dogs that at times seemed close upon it. Suddenly the dogs doubled upon the trail and slunk cowering and whimpering back to their masters refusing to advance. The men were about to retrace their steps when they heard a cry indescribably dreadful. Deep and guttural it seemed to embody a menace of fierce hate and vengeance that struck the men with terror and they ran away in fear.

Today the chase was resumed. It is believed that the creature is a man named Kustwind, who fifteen years ago hid himself in the woods because he believed that he had killed a man.

GRAND ARMY MEN ARE DYING RAPIDLY

Veterans of Civil War Answering to the Final Roll Call to Extent of 1,000 Per Month

Philadelphia, Feb. 1.—At the rate of 1,000 a month the members of the Grand Army of the Republic are being carried to their graves, and every post in the country has held its flag at half mast during the year just ended. Statistics just compiled show that the death rate has recently increased at an alarming rate.

Only ten years ago the Grand Army was all that the name implies. It mustered 400,489 men at roll call. Today the roster shows only 276,662 names, and the list numbers thousands of helpless old men who have attended their last encampment.

All plans for the perpetuation of the Grand Army have been abandoned," said Adjutant General Robert B. Wallace today, when discussing the future of the organization. "Some of the veterans may be here twenty years from now but not many of them. In the department of Pennsylvania we numbered 46,511 in 1890, but today the records show only 25,818 left. The death rate will increase from year to year until finally only a handful will be left.

"The mortality has increased from a slow rate from year to year until now it has reached the rate of 1,000 a month throughout the country. The total membership is now 276,662. More members of the association died in Illinois during the last year than ever before in the history of that department, 730 being the number of deaths being over three per cent. of the membership. A number of posts, reduced below seven members have been forced to surrender."

DR. JAMES MILLS TALKS TO ROCK COUNTY FARMERS

True Education Should Be a Symmetrical Development of All the Child's Powers, Physical, Intellectual and Moral—A Physician's Suggestions on the Conduct of Public Schools.

Dr. James Mills of Janesville read a paper on the physical training in the home and school, before the Rock county farmers in convention at Milton Junction this week which excited much interest. It was the desire of those present expressed in open meeting, that the address be published in the leading paper of Rock county, the Gazette. It has been cut somewhat to admit of its use in these columns, but not enough to destroy the connection. It is full of sound suggestions and good sense and should be read by all parents of school children. The paper is as follows:

PART I.
The home, and under this head I shall include the hereditary acquisitions, the health, mental capacity, and the character of the parents, is the bulwark of national security, the mainstay of national progress, and the hope of a higher and better civilization.

With properly endowed parents, the children will possess the first and essential requisite for complete living. As soon as they are born, however, the struggle for existence commences, and they must at once begin the work of adjusting themselves to their environment, and right here is where the parents exert a benign influence. If you can arrange to, insist upon their study being as light and simple as possible. They will grow up quite as clever as if they were overtaxed in school. Above all, let them be happy and joyous. If you wish your children to be strong you must make them happy; but if you are constantly scolding them they will grow up sad, nervous and miserable.

During childhood, and youth, children should have an abundance of plain, stimulating food at regular intervals, because the quality of the food and the regularity in the time of eating are very important in securing growth and development. Young children should have plenty of sleep. The young infant sleeps nearly all the time, and until the age of ten or twelve years children should have at least eight or ten hours sleep out of the twenty-four.

The object of all true education, should be well-rounded, symmetrical development of all the powers—physical, intellectual and moral—of the individual; but in the face of this truth which is acknowledged by all educators worthy the name, we see children from six to fifteen years of age during the time of intense development, activity subjected to a course of study which, in many instances is entirely beyond their comprehension, and a source of constant irritation to their immature and unstable brains.

From the time the unfortunate child enters the first primary, through the eight years until he emerges from the grammar school, he is subjected to a continual grind in number work, problems and examinations. Morning, noon and night, these veritable "Old Man of the Sea" to them, hanging like a mill over their heads of hours and ever harassing their dreams; they become not only a menace to the health and happiness of the children, but also a nuisance to their parents who cannot obtain a quiet hour for a puzzle or a puzzle child cannot solve a long list of problems, far beyond his comprehension and appeals for help.

But, after all, what results are attained from all this work, worry and grind? I believe I am justified in saying that they are nearly always inadequate, and often a dismal failure. One boy and girl, twelve-year-old pupil who has never looked into a written arithmetic, but who has been carefully drilled in mental arithmetic, can do better work and obtain a clearer comprehension and more thorough grasp of the subject in three or four years than the struggling child obtains in his eight years of arduous toil.

Teachers should be very careful never to send a note or letter with a scholar to the home of another schoolmate, making inquiry why they are not at school, because the child may be sent to a home where there is some contagious disease.

I will now call your attention to the subject of brain exhaustion.

PART II.
What are the causes of this exhaustion in school work?

How can the teacher best detect it? And how can it be overcome or prevented?

In order to develop a well balanced mind the physical condition, as well as the mental, should receive its full measure of attention. Every parent and every teacher should be strongly impressed that a "sound mind in a sound body" is necessary in all cases. If enduring results are desired or expected, the old adage, "A healthy mind in a healthy body," will always remain the highest expression of life in its best phrase.

Are we now giving enough attention to these laws which relate to the physical well-being? Are our boys and girls growing up strong and beautiful, as youth should and can be?

The clear-eyed Greek knew how essential to true education is physical culture; and their beauty and grace of form have been the admiration and envy of succeeding generations.

First, let us train the muscles, that we may make them fully developed, strong and healthy. From infancy to mature age, play is a boon to all workers. The men of thought, as well as the men of action, double their efficiency by taking regularly helpful recreation. We may easily quadruple the value of our school-work by studying to keep pupils fresh in the operations of their minds.

They should not only know, but put into practice, the truth that proper food, plenty of oxygen, and frequent periods of relaxation in which to rest and change the activities of the brain, are of infinitely greater value to the child than the details of geography or history, or the memorizing of the rules of grammar or arithmetic, frequently drawn from principles not at all understood.

We might just as well try to compel a normal, healthy child to stop breathing, as to remain quiet for any great length of time.

Young children soon become fatigued, and so we make their periods of work very brief. These periods are lengthened as they advance in age. The fatigue limit is a great practical study. Much may be done to keep pupils fresh by having easy work follow difficult work.

In this connection, I desire to insist that, whenever the children of a class in their efforts to follow the recitation, become tired, or whenever a strong effort of the will on the part of the teacher is required to keep their attention on the work in hand, it is time to stop. If this limit be exceeded, the unstable brain will be injured and infinitely more harm than good done.

I do not believe that there is anything changed many an evil design into a firm purpose to be very good.

Let the children take some of the care for themselves.

It should be remembered that school children are using up a vast deal of nervous energy. The continual mastering of new thoughts, together with all the trying emotions, that usually center around this work in most school rooms, cannot but be a great drain upon the vital forces.

How to find one's place in this little heart-kingdom, always waiting to be won—how to hold one's place there, worthily after it is found; how to guide and to be led at the same time—these are some of the things that urge themselves upon the human primary teacher.

Discipline is essential, and it should be in form of gentle guidance, and the child be so trained as to reach an all-round normal development and a sturdy physical and moral, as well as mental, maturity.

To the public school to which we entrust the next generation we turn for a harmonious working of the youthful powers.

Experience is imperative. A new day has dawned if there is no good received from the school of experience.

Daniel Sully and his excellent company presented "The Parish Priest" at the opera house last night.

The mistake of a young man in casting aside true love for the sake of ambition furnishes a common-place plot, around which the author, Daniel Hart, has woven in a masterly way a story that cannot fail to leave a deep impression upon the mind.

FARMERS ENDORSE PRIMARY ELECTION

ALSO COMMEND CONGRESS FOR ABOLISHING CANTEN.

And Favor Use of the Ballot Box for Women—Final Proceedings Yesterday at the Rock County Grangers' Annual Convention Held at Milton Junction.

Milton Junction, Feb. 1.—The hall was crowded at the last day's session of the institute yesterday and great enthusiasm was manifested in the different topics discussed.

The principal speakers for the day were A. C. Powers of Beloit, Alex. Arnold of Galeville, Wis., Supt. L. D. Harvey of Madison and Rev. T. W. North of Milton.

A. C. Powers' paper on good roads was listened to with great interest by the members present as the subject is one which is being agitated by the country people in a number of the western states today. Mr. Powers having had five years' experience in road work, some very profitable ideas were gleaned pertaining to the methods employed in securing the best results.

Alex. Arnold's subject, the most profitable crop, "Beef Cattle" was instructive and in the preliminary remarks which were of a humorous nature he had the audience enjoying a hearty laugh at the expense of Elder Goodrich who was present in the institute for the first time as Mr. Goodrich had the misfortune to break his leg some time ago and has not been able to attend until today.

Mr. Arnold stated that the best beef cattle were a cross between the short horn and the Angus, Hereford or the Galloway. He also gave the best methods of feeding them for the market.

In the discussion which followed not only the stock raiser made remarks but the good house wife was included on the best way of cooking the steak.

Supt. Harvey gave an interesting talk on the "Centralization of the Schools." This subject having been before the convention before the farmers were more enlightened on the subject, than a few days previous, so that many questions were asked by patrons of the district schools.

Supt. Harvey stated that one or two towns in Rock county would have centralized schools before another school term began. This system originated in 1869 and is now carried out successfully in sixteen different schools.

Rev. Thos. W. North of Milton gave an interesting talk on how to raise more and better men. He said that the influences which make men are environments, home influences, and habits, as bad habits weaken the constitution and in such was transmitted from generation to generation, but with firm principles in a determination to do the right thing at the right time man's success was assured.

The literary program for the day—recitations by Miss Lucile Hansen and Miss Edna Wright and music under the direction of Mrs. T. W. North.

After a lengthy discussion the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved; That our United States senate and the house of representatives be justly entitled to our gratitude and commendation for abolishing the canteen.

Resolved; That since woman is a citizen she should have the privilege in exercising a citizen's privilege in regard to the ballot.

Resolved; That the Patrons of Husbandry endorse a primary election law as promulgated by Governor La Follette.

The following question was found in the question box, "Which is better poor old grandmother's butter, or that latest style which comes from the liquid poured from unwashed cans on which Job's turkey sits at night and mildly winks, 'Thy will be done'." After a lengthy discussion grandmother's butter was decided to be the better.

THE NEWS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

THE GAZETTE AGENCY.
W. W. CLARK, Manager.
Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 1, 1901.

The next lecture in the college course will be given Tuesday evening, February 5, at College chapel. President W. C. Whitford will be the speaker, and his subject, "Battles in the Rockies." Despite other attractions the lecture by Rev. Dr. Platts on Tuesday evening last was listened to by a goodly number and was an enjoyable and instructive effort.

Principal D. O. Ring gave the community a surprise this week by taking himself to Weldon, Iowa, ostensibly to attend the Wells Looftboro wedding, but in reality to be united in wedlock to Miss Sadie Looftboro. Himself and wife arrived here Wednesday, and Milton people offer hearty congratulations and best wishes, but David will please take notice that nothing of the kind will be permitted again.

James G. Bond knows that Miss Orpha Looftboro is married. The first UNPAID telegram announced that she was going to be, and an hour later another came stating that she was. His pocket, if not his heart, was "touched."

The Good Templars enjoyed a social at Odd Fellows' hall Thursday evening. Wm. Bowers of Lima, ebook hands with Milton friends Wednesday.

Rev. O. A. Nelson of Canton, China, will preach at the Congregational church on Sunday, February 9. He is a foreign missionary and a classmate of the pastor, Rev. A. L. McClelland.

The quarterly meeting of the Rock County Druggists' association, held here on Tuesday, was, on account of various causes, somewhat of a frost; but the few who were in attendance had a pleasant visit and did business.

During the absence of Principal Ring on his matrimonial trip, Ray W. Root took charge of the High school.

Three below zero Wednesday night. Wilson Martin transacted business here Wednesday.

The sleighing is not very good, but it is the best up to date, of the season. Miss Inez Wilbur will go to Orange, Cal., in a few days, to remain for some time.

J. C. Goodrich is filling his large ice house at Storrs' lake this week.

Remember the Married Women's oratorical contest at the Seventh Day Baptist church Monday evening.

Soverhill & Porter will open their warehouse here Monday, both for sizing and packing export grades, and those who wish work should apply to the foreman at the warehouse.

FULTON.

Fulton, Feb. 1.—Harriet Lee spent Saturday and Sunday of last week in Beloit. Miss Nellie Bentley spent Monday and Tuesday in Janesville.

Miss Clara Hake has returned to her home in Magnolia. John Thompson is slowly improving. Miss Lou Raymond left for Whitewater Tuesday where she will attend the normal school this winter.

O. P. Murwin finished filling his ice house Wednesday. The ice was fourteen inches thick.

On Sunday, Feb. 3, the first quarterly communion services will be held at the church in connection with the morning services. The offering at this service will be for the American Missionary Association.

A social meeting at the church on Friday evening of this week for the revival of education should be well attended.

The C. E. society of Fulton will observe the birthday of Christian Endeavor on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 2 and 3, by special services at the church. There will be an early morning prayer meeting at 7 o'clock on Saturday morning. At 2:30 p. m., on Saturday there will be a devotional service. The roll call and addresses on Christian Endeavor by Prof. Rosa and Rev. E. P. Moore of Edgerton. On Sunday evening at 6:30 there will be an especially prepared program and also at 7:30. The pastor will speak on the power and presence of Christian Endeavor. All, both young and old, are cordially invited to attend these services.

The church choir and their attendants endeavored to give Miss Raymond, one of their number a surprise on arriving at her home last Friday evening, but she concluded not to be greatly surprised. Miss Raymond left Tuesday off his work to reside here Sunday at Whitewater Normal.

KOSHKONONG.

A PROBLEM SOLVED.

Another Gordian Knot Cut

A Discovery Invaluable to the Science of Medicine.

An Invention That Will Be of Benefit to Thousands of People.

There is no doubt about the value of Vinol, the new form of cod liver oil, concerning which so much has been said lately. It is just another one of those great inventions that is bound to revolutionize a certain branch of science. This time the science is that of saving lives. Hence the greater good that will be derived from this discovery.

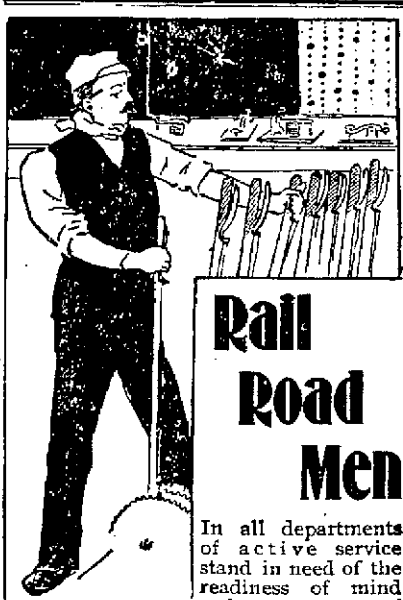

Mr. Smith, of Smith's pharmacy, of this city, who so fortunately succeeded in associating himself with the prominent Boston firm, has indeed made his name one that will never be forgotten in our city. His foresight and shrewdness enable him to take advantage of what has proved to be a most wonderful blessing to all who are in need of medicine for the cure of throat, lung and bronchial troubles, as well as wasting diseases of every description.

This Vinol is simply cod liver oil in a new form, cod liver oil without any oil, paradoxical as the statement may sound. In other words, as Mr. Smith explains it himself, Vinol is the concentrated essence containing all the active medicinal principles found in the liver of the live cod, without any of the objectionable features that were formerly extracted at the same time, such as fatty matter. The extract which is the basis of Vinol becomes tasteless, administered as it is in a delicate table wine. The efficient manner in which it acts is really wonderful. Physicians are now able to prescribe for patients Vinol where it would have been impossible a short time ago to have recommended cod liver oil on account of the depleted condition of the patient's digestive organs.

This has always been a drawback that has prevented more cures being effected where cod liver oil has been indicated. Patients are now able to take this medicine without the slightest inconvenience. In fact, to take delicious Vinol is a pleasure. Its beneficial effect is most gratifying. It is not often we believe it our duty to expatiate so fully on a subject, but this is one that will admit of careful investigation by all, for it is indeed of the gravest importance that every one should become conversant with a remedy that is so often needed in our bleak climate.

January Failures Total 1,242.

New York, Feb. 1.—Reports to R. G. Dun & Co. show failures in January to be 1,242 in number, and $11,220,811 in amount of liabilities. Of this aggregate 254 were in manufacturing, for $4,700,984, and 948 in trading, for $5,511,804, while in brokerage, transporting, real estate, etc., there were forty failures, for $1,508,023. Besides these strictly commercial disasters eight financial houses closed their doors, owing $1,070,857. Failures for January, 1900, were 989 in number and $10,304,464 in amount of liabilities.

In all departments of active service stand in need of the readiness of mind and promptness of action which depend on a healthy nervous system. Let a railroad man be "rattled," and every life depending on him is in danger. A great many railroad men have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a valuable tonic for the overstrained nervous system. It builds up the body, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and induces a healthy appetite and refreshing sleep.

I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. C. Popplewell of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me, could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and the 'Pilllets' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since."

BABY'S BUSINESS

A healthy baby is comfortable; and that is enough for a baby. His business in life is to grow.

Aside from acute diseases, his food is the cause of most of his troubles. But Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil delivers him from it.

He isn't sick; only a little hitch, somewhere, in his machine for turning food into growth.

It is a great thing to do, for a baby, to help him over a hitch with mere food—the emulsion is food that has the tact to get there.

The tact to get there is medicine.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.

RELIGION IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Judge Taft at the head of the Philippine commission, publishes in his late report, some facts concerning conditions in the islands that are new and of great importance.

He says that the prevailing religion is Catholic, and that 6,500,000 of the natives are members of that creed. That they are devout worshippers although very ignorant and superstitious.

For many generations these poor people have been under the domination of the Friars, a class of Monks owning most of the tillable land and who controlled the wealth of the islands.

They were practically the government levying and collecting tribute that was so burdensome that rebellion was of common occurrence, and was at its height when our troops first landed at Manila.

These Friars, something over 1,200 in number were driven out by the natives, some of them killed, and a large number of them taken prisoners so that less than 500 are left, and their power of course is gone, because they are Spanish subjects.

The natives are impressed with the belief that with the establishment of American government that the authority of the Friars will be restored, and they are so much disturbed that many of them are inclined to leave the church. They cannot be made to understand that the church and the state are distinctive organizations.

Judge Taft suggests that if the catholic church in this country would take the matter up and send over American priests and bishops to take command and organize the native church that it would go a long way toward settling the difficulty and would be a wonderful aid to our government in helping to establish a stable government in the islands.

It would seem as though Judge Taft's suggestion is the only solution of the perplexing question.

The religious rights of the people should be protected and the property of the Friars bought out, so that they can go back to Spain, where they evidently belong.

The Catholics in America are loyal citizens and possess the highest regard for American government. They now have the opportunity of helping their church by directing six and a half million loyal subjects out of darkness and tyranny into the light of freedom with self government as an ultimatum.

Judge Taft's recommendations are worthy of careful consideration by the church.

EQUITABLE TAXATION.

It is to be regretted that the tax commission could not have been given time to investigate all classes of property before being called upon for any bills looking to the readjustment of taxes.

The commission was created for the express purpose of equalizing taxation, and the fact that ten years was considered necessary for its work indicated that the task was difficult of solution, and ample time would be required to adjust the burden of taxes so that all classes of tax payers would be treated fairly.

The comparative valuation of properties showing that realty was assessed a trifle over one per cent, while railroad and personal property escaped with less than half that amount, is hardly fair to the railroads because in the totals all classes of taxes were represented including state, city and county.

Any tax payer, especially in cities, knows that his city and county tax is very largely in excess of his state tax. The railroads are now paying about half of the state taxes and the bill now before the legislature asks them to add half a million more to that amount. The companies have a right to protest as they doubtless will vigorously.

The Gazette has sometimes been accused of being a corporation organ and especially friendly to the railroads. Some people have an idea that the paper is under obligations to the railway companies on account of transportation or from some other cause.

In order that this class of people may be undeceived the paper will state that it has not had a railway pass for many years, and every dollar's worth of transportation has been paid for on a cash basis representing one hundred cents on the dollar.

The paper is under no obligation of any nature to any railroad, has no ax to grind, or any personal acquaintance with any of the officials.

Regarding railroad taxation the paper is not erratic, neither does it represent any erratic constituency.

Humanity generally possesses good common sense. The belief is prevalent that corporations of whatever nature are entitled to the same fair consideration that is accorded the individual.

The legislature will not reflect public sentiment by rushing through railroad legislation, however much men like Assemblyman Hall may urge it. The tax commission should be given time to perfect their work. It may require ten years. If it does the people will not complain. Their mission is important and it will be fully accomplished when all classes of business interests are treated fairly, and the burden of taxation is equitably distributed. In the mean time there is no demand for snap legislation, which always results in more harm than good to the state. The legislature can afford to make haste slowly in dealing with important questions.

Admiral Dewey has put on his green goggles again and this time he discovers a war cloud about the size of a man's hand rolling up from the German quarter. His vision is not clear enough to be well defined, but he thinks that he sees war between the United States and Germany, within two years. The admiral's domestic life seems prolific of visions. His digestion may be a little off. The old digestion may be a little off. The old gentleman will hardly live to see a war with Germany. The diplomatic relations between the two countries are not particularly strained, and both governments possess too much sense to anticipate war. The admiral should change his glasses they are too pessimistic.

Mexican Killed in a Duel.
Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 1.—News has been received here of a duel between Tom Childs and Miguel Lasado at Ajo mine, northwest of Phoenix, in which the latter was killed. Childs is a wealthy cattle man and Lasado a miner. Both were in love with a girl, over whom they exchanged shots with pistols. The killing was not called to the attention of the authorities and the Mexican's bones are bleaching on the desert.

In the Wilds.
"Now, Senegambo," said the cannibal mother to her youngest, "I want you to be on your good behavior and not make a pig of yourself."
"Why?" inquired the little savage.
"Because we're going to have that new minister for lunch."—Philadelphia Press.

The Cheerful Idiot.
"Dear me!" said the typewriter boarder. "What do you think of a couple that have been courting for 25 years? What sort of an anniversary could you call that?"
"I should call it silver spoon," said the cheerful idiot.—Indianapolis Press.

A Point Overlooked.
"What we want to do," said the kind hearted civilized person, "is to treat you gently and make you happy."
"Yes," answered the barbarian, "but you insist on forgetting that we can't be really happy unless we are killing off white people."—Washington Star.

His Type.
Mother—What type is the young man that our daughter says you met in New York when you went to bring her home?
Father—Well, to judge from his clothes, I should say he was poster type.—Detroit Free Press.

Not Adept in Dressmaking.
"What's the matter with the doll? It's got its clothes upside down and wrong side to the front."
"That's one of them dolls that the Vassar girls made and gave away to the poor and unfortunate."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Supreme Test.
Towne—So he's dead. He was a very popular man, wasn't he?
Brown—Yes, indeed. Why, even the undertaker was sorry to see him go.—Philadelphia Press.

A Weakening Chap.
She—You're getting tired of kissing me already.
He—What makes you think that?
She—I saw you stop to take breath.—Harper's Bazar.

WELL WORTH SAVING.

Movement Afoot to Protect Historic Christ Church, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia has ever held high rank among American cities for the devotion of its citizens to our common country, and this is only to be expected when one considers the character of the historical monuments still standing in the City of Brotherly Love. How could the boy or girl who breathes the air surrounding Independence hall, the Pean cottage, or old Christ church grow up into anything less than a fervid patriot?

A movement is now on foot to protect and preserve old Christ church, and this will in all likelihood be done. The historic old structure is situated on Second street, above Market, between Church and Filbert streets. The plan of preservation provides for the removal of the intervening structures and the widening and improvement of neighboring streets. The church will then stand in the center of a paved square, and it will possess greater dignity of appearance and be reasonably safe from fire.

Christ church is probably the most historic temple in America. It was erected more than 205 years ago and has through all the intervening time played a most prominent part in the history of the country and in that of the Episcopal church in America. In its early years it was the recipient of royal favor and "good Queen Anne" presented to it a silver communion service, still in use. During the Revolution and after the church played a conspicuous part and within its walls worshipped Washington, Adams, Franklin, Randolph, Hopkinson and many other patriot leaders. Washington's pew is still preserved and is inscribed, "Part of a pew in Christ church used by Washington, Franklin, Lafayette and Bishop White." Bishop White was the first bishop of Pennsylvania.

The present structure was erected between 1727 and 1734 and was then the finest building in the colonies.

VIOLA ALLEN'S NEW HIT

"In the Palace of the King" Has Been an Immense Success.

According to the New York critics, and they ought to know, Viola Allen, the sterling and ever popular actress, has made the hit of her life in "In the Palace of the King." This play is a dramatization, with some slight changes, of a widely read novel, with the same title, by F.

MISS VIOLA ALLEN.

Marion Crawford and abounds in situations of striking interest. To the part of the heroine, Donna Maria Dolores de Mendoza, Miss Allen gives "an incomparably spirited, interesting and touching interpretation." The main motive of the play is the love of Dolores and Diego, Philip II, and the efforts to thwart their union. To help the action a character, Cardinal Luis de Torres, who is not in the novel, is introduced into the play. Miss Allen enacts the role of a young woman who is willing to sacrifice her life and life itself for the sake of her lover. She is saved by the appearance of the supposedly defunct Don John.

Although Viola Allen is best known to the public by her immense success as Glory Quayle in "The Christian," that hit was by no means her first. She has been on the stage a number of years, and had done effective and pleasing work in several plays, such as "The Masqueraders," "Liberty Hall," "Sowing the Wind" and others.

DOUBLE INSTALLATION

Officers Installed for Olive Branch No. 36, A. O. U. W. and Laurel Lodge No. 2, D. of H.

The recently elected officers of Olive Branch, No. 36, A. O. U. W., and Laurel Lodge No. 2, D. of H., were installed last evening at East Side Odd Fellows' hall with appropriate ceremonies. Grand Master Workman Thayer officiated for the Olive Branch and Mrs. Charles Page of Baraboo, Grand Chief of Honor, performed a like service for the Daughters. The ceremonies were impressive as the installing officers were left perfect in ritual.

At the conclusion of the business section of the meeting a capital program was rendered beginning with an address of welcome by J. J. Cunningham. A song by Miss Edith Reynolds who was accompanied by Miss Nellie Fardy on the piano, was heartily encored. A pleasing recitation by James McCue was followed by a dialogue by Misses Maria Schmidley and Lucille Murphy. Misses Mabel Brennan and May Schumaker also gave interesting recitations.

The history of the order and its remarkable growth from a small beginning in 1868 to nearly 410,000 in 1901 was given by Mrs. Ohlweiler. Addresses were made by Grand Master Workman Thayer and Judge B. F. Dunwiddle. The former spoke of the order in comparison with others of a similar scope; the latter confused himself mainly to the work of the local lodge. Miss May Huntress rendered a piano solo.

The floor was then cleared for dancing for which Tuckwood's orchestra furnished the music.

Opera House Needs Heat.

The management of the Myers Opera house had better look to the comfort of its audiences. The house last night came near being frozen out. Those present sat shivering while the performance was on. Ladies kept on their wraps and the men their overcoats and still they were cold. The house has been in that condition all of this season. People have caught colds and the grip and there is much complaint. That is one reason why the attendance has been so small. People won't go to the theatre and be frozen up.

INCANDESCENT HOUSE LIGHTING.

A few of its advantages are, the ease with which it can be turned on or off by means of switches even from points distant from the lights.

No heat nor dirt is given off and the light readily lends itself to artistic arrangements and decorations.

In the decoration of a home it is of the greatest importance to consider the kind of light we are to use. If you use a heat and soot producer for illuminating, the paper and housefurnishings should be selected accordingly. For light paper, carpets or upholstery will be practically ruined in a short time and lace curtains will be often a dingy gray than a fresh white.

Any open flame is a bad thing to have in a human habitation. It is consuming air and that is what we primarily exist upon. As the saying is, "It makes the air bad." Those who breathe it make themselves sick. Malaria is often blamed for this "tired feeling."

Another advantage is the facility with which it can be installed to produce a better distribution of light.

The old idea of a group of lights in the center of a room has become obsolete. The aim of progressive architects is to so distribute the lights around the room that there will be no shadows cast.

We will always be pleased to consult with prospect or leader users about the best arrangement of lights and to give estimates for installing.

Outside connections are made and meters set without expense to customers.

MARZLUFF & CO. MAY CONCLUDE TO MOVE

PROPOSITION FROM MILWAUKEE THEY MAY ACCEPT.

Need More Space for Manufacturing Purposes Which They are Unable to Obtain—Building With Sufficient Room Would Induce the Company to Remain in Janesville.

F. M. Marzluff & Co. have about concluded to move their shoe factory to Milwaukee. They have a proposition which they consider greatly to their benefit to accept.

Mr. Marzluff was seen this morning in regard to the report. He said it was true that they had received a proposition from Milwaukee parties which was so much to their advantage that they had about concluded to accept it. They have had the matter under consideration for some time, but it was not until lately that they had considered it at all seriously. A great many things have to be considered in making a move of this kind, but the main one is the question of expense.

The factory as it now stands occupies a building 36 x 94, three stories high, with a basement. About half of the basement is available for manufacturing purposes. This gives them about 11,844 square feet of space for manufacturing purposes and their business demands about 30,000. This lack of room is also one of the reasons for the contemplated move. They must have more room, but cannot get it in their present location.

They also claim that their factory can be operated at a less expense in a city like Milwaukee than in a town of this size.

In this city it costs Marzluff & Co. about 17½ cents per square foot for rent, light, heat and power; while A. W. Rich of Milwaukee pays about thirteen and one-half cents per square foot.

Insurance is also an item that the manufacturer has to contend with. In Milwaukee A. W. Rich pays $4.50 per thousand for his insurance while in this city Marzluff & Co. pay $17.50. All of these items go to make up the sum total of the reason why they are now seriously thinking of accepting the proposition of the Milwaukee parties.

Marzluff & Co. employ about one hundred hands the year round and have a pay roll of about $40,000. From a small institution employing a small number of hands and having a trade confined to a few of the neighboring cities, this factory has grown into a business employing many hands and has a trade that extends from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Their business has increased to such dimensions that they must have more room in order to be able to keep up with their orders.

Milwaukee offers them many advantages which Janesville cannot give. Buyers from the west on their way east stop off at Milwaukee and buy goods when they would never think of stopping in Janesville. Fuel can be purchased at a much lower price and an abundance of experienced help can always be secured at a few moments notice. The shipping facilities are far ahead of what this city can offer and any new thing needed in the business can usually be picked up in the city markets without having to go to the expense of sending for it and being delayed in getting it.

These are a few of the numerous reasons why F. M. Marzluff & Co. are thinking of going to Milwaukee. This firm does not ask a bonus of this city to keep their factory here. All they ask is for some one to erect a strictly up-to-date fire-proof building that will bring the insurance rates down on a par with the rates paid by other manufacturers in large cities, with plenty of floor space in order that they may increase their force by from 40 to 60 hands. They will rent the building for a term of years and are willing to pay a rental for same that is somewhere in the neighborhood of what is paid by the factories in the larger cities.

It would be a great loss to the city of Janesville to allow this factory to go to Milwaukee, simply for the reason that a suitable building could not be erected to give them the required amount of floor space. Janesville is making efforts at all times to secure new industries. We have the factory already located in this city. It is one of our best paying industries and owned by people who have homes and other property interests here.

It would be a very poor move to allow them to go to another city simply because a building with sufficient floor space and fire protection could not be secured for them. Marzluff and Co. mean business and unless they can see at once where they can make a change in this city to get what they are after they will most certainly go to Milwaukee.

SOME ARE ANXIOUS TO ADOPT THE BOY

Arthur Petit Would Like to Find a Home in Janesville—Is an Attractive Child.

The boy, Arthur Petit, who has been the most talked of individual in this city, is being kindly cared for by Mrs. E. R. O'Neil, 5 High street, and would be very glad to remain where he is.

He possesses a most engaging personality and wins friends wherever he goes. In addition to being good looking he is naturally very bright, and his contact with the world has undoubtedly tended to increase his attractiveness to an unusual degree.

He is an orphan in the double sense both parents being dead. He is one of a family of five children—three boys and two girls—all scattered he knows not where. Evidently he has had good training from some one for his language is correct and his manners gentle and refined.

He had been given two nickels by Officers Hogan and Brown and was planning to save them until he could get enough more to buy some new stockings. His temporary mother Mrs. O'Neil, told him that she would see that he had some stockings and that he might spend one coin for candy if he liked. He returned from the candy trip with a generous bagful of the coveted sweets and treated every one in the house with the liberality of a prince.

Yesterday he spent a part of the day with the family of T. S. Nolan, as Mr. Nolan's little daughter has taken a great interest in the homeless little waif and has thought seriously of adopting. Miss Nolan is aged about eight.

It is probable that some one in the city or the county will feel moved to offer a home to the little fellow. Any one so minded is requested to address Supt. Kenyon who is empowered to act in the matter.

WILY GROUND HOG RULES TOMORROW

If His Shadow is Seen Returns to His Lair For Six Weeks' Sleep.

Everyone is hoping and praying that tomorrow will be gloomy. They would welcome a traveling blizzard so that the sun would be obscured enough to tempt the wily ground hog from his lair and keep him out.

Tradition has it that the sagacious animal comes out from his winter quarters on Feb. 2 to take an astronomical observation and if there is enough sunshine to let him see his shadow he returns for an additional six weeks' slumber. In other words a cloudy second of February means an early spring; a bright day, a late one.

In this connection it may be stated that some years ago the Chicago Inter Ocean set on foot scientific investigation to prove the truth or fallacy of this belief. Reliable meteorological data covering seventeen years was found and in that time the oracle proved correct just once. Another fondly cherished delusion rudely dispelled.

SOCIAL FUNCTION AT MRS. W. J. SKELLY'S

House Decorated with Carnations and American Beauties—Fifty Guests Present.

One of the most elegant evening parties of the season was given last night by Mrs. W. J. Skelly, 18 Milwaukee avenue. The home was lavishly decorated with carnations and American beauty roses and was a picture of aluring hospitality. An elaborate three-course supper was served at seven during which time the mandolin orchestra played a number of choice selections.

After supper the gentlemen smoked and the ladies visited until the cards were brought forth and then all confined themselves strictly to the business of the hour.

A LARGE FORCE BUSY

City Ice Company Are Harvesting the Winter Crop—Ice Twelve to Fifteen Inches Thick.

Henry Tall of the City Ice Co. is one of the busiest men in the city just now while the season's ice crop is being harvested. He has a large force of men employed and the work is progressing satisfactorily. It will probably continue two weeks longer. The ice is twelve to fifteen inches thick and of good quality.

Not only is the work hard and engrossing while it lasts but constant care must be exercised lest a man or a team get into the river. If the former it is usually only a matter of temporary discomfort. If a horse falls in he has to be choked and taken out on a board. All of which requires prompt and skillful action. Last year a horse belonging to the company was lost. It is unusual for an ice-cutting season to go through without some one getting an impromptu bath.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Just a Spencer of Edgerton, called on friends in this city yesterday.

Miss May Gardner is visiting her sister in Los Angeles, Cal.

Joseph A. Van Kirk, who for the past year has creditably filled a clerkship with J. M. Bostwick & Sons, has resigned his position.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barriage, who reside at 55 Race street, were pleasantly surprised last evening by a number of their friends, who dropped in on them during the evening, bringing with them numerous baskets filled with good things to eat.

ENOCH TAYLOR HAS GOOD WAR RECORD

Col. W. B. Britton Says He Was Faithful and Reliable in the Discharge of His Duties.

Enoch Taylor has another champion who comes promptly forward to testify in his behalf. This is Col. W. B. Britton whose acquaintance with Mr. Taylor dates back nearly forty years to the early days of the Civil war. Enoch Taylor was in the employ of Col. Britton at Jackson, Miss., and during the siege of Vicksburg. Later he joined a Louisiana regiment and fought with them during the rest of the struggle.

Col. Britton found him honest, reliable and faithful in the discharge of his duties, to a remarkable degree. Others who have had business dealings with Mr. Taylor testify in the same strain.

It is a commendable trait of human nature that when a good man is shown injustice there are always plenty to come to his assistance whose sympathy is able to rehabilitate him in his own self-respect.

DR. J. B. WHITING MAKES GOOD POINT

Suggests That Dr. Rodermund's Clothing Be Disinfected On Leaving Milwaukee Hospital.

Dr. J. B. Whiting was in this office today to call attention to the fact in connection with the Dr. Rodermund affair that no mention has been made in the papers of the disinfection of the estate doctor's clothing. This is decidedly important and should not be overlooked when Rodermund is released from the Milwaukee Detention hospital on Monday as he will be.

The probabilities are however that he will be called upon to undergo the most exhaustive fumigating process that can be devised, for his insane defiance of public opinion and disregard for public safety have put him at odds with everyone and those who have him in charge will doubtless do their duty to the full extent of the law, possibly a little beyond.

WILL CLOSE UP DEAL EARLY NEXT WEEK

Canning Factory Promoters Will Be in the City Shortly—Contract is Drawn Up.

Mr. A. E. Bingham has received a letter from the promoters of the canning factory project in which they say they will be in the city the first of next week for the purpose of closing up the deal regarding the erection of the factory.

The members of the Mid-winter fair committee that have had the matter in charge have held a couple of meetings lately and have drawn up a contract embodying the conditions they require which will be presented to the promoters. The committee do not intend to hand this money over to the canning factory promoters unless a satisfactory agreement is entered into by them.

It is understood that the men who propose to erect the factory have made satisfactory arrangements with the manufacturers of the machinery used by them and have an agreement with them that they will furnish the machinery on time if the deal is closed.

There is still considerable of a balance back on the subscription list which will have to be raised by the time that the deal is closed. It now looks as though the factory was an assured thing.

SPECIAL ELECTION IN THE FIFTH WARD

George Kastner, the Republican Nominee, is Running Strong—Would Make a Good Alderman.

A special election is being held today in the Fifth ward for the purpose of electing an alderman to fill the place of James Sennett who has removed from the ward. George Kastner, the republican nominee was running strong at noon. He is a man who needs no introduction to the people of his ward and if elected will fill the office with honor to himself and his constituents. The Fifth ward is a democratic stronghold but it is hoped that by good hard work that Mr. Kastner may be elected.

On account of an error in editing the paper last night it was made to appear as endorsing the democratic nominee, William B. Murray. Such was not the intention of the paper as it always upholds its own party candidates. It was an oversight and does Mr. Kastner great injustice.

A light vote is being cast only 64 up to 3:30 o'clock.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

BIG FIRE LIGHTS NEW YORK.

The Losses Will Foot Up to $1,500,000.

TWO BIG WESTERN FIRES.

Coates Opera-House in Kansas City Demolished Just After Audience of the Night Had Departed—Big Blaze in North Dakota.

New York, Feb. 1.—An explosion, supposedly of red cedar sawdust, mixed with air, in the big William Wicke company's cigar box factory, at the southwest corner of the short riverside block, on the east side of First avenue, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets, upset the neighborhood a little after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but although two dozen persons were more or less hurt, the event as a popular sensation was made insignificant by the fire that followed in the ruins in the evening, by the light of which a newspaper could be read at the Fifth Avenue hotel, at least a mile away. At 7:00 o'clock, when it was supposed that the afternoon fire had spent itself, there was a sudden collapse of a part of the damaged walls. Flames burst forth afresh, and then the cigar box factory burned like a tinder box. No fire since the Windsor disaster spread so rapidly. Thirty-five minutes after the fire started Chief Croker himself, who had reached the scene, turned in the ominous "double nine," which brought into service every fire engine between Grand and Fifty-ninth streets.

Thousands Drawn to Scene. The blaze drew a crowd of thousands to the scene and 300 policemen, under Chief Devery, guarded the fire lines and kept the crowd back.

So rapidly did the flames spread that a score of firemen, who had gone into the factory, narrowly escaped with their lives. They dashed out of the burning building just as the walls crumbled into the streets. All around the blazing factory were thickly inhabited tenements. The inmates were panic-stricken. They fled in disorder into the street. Many of them brought their belongings with them.

The police forced more than a hundred families living in the tenements on the west side of First avenue, between Thirty-second and Thirtieth streets, to leave their homes.

Fire Makes Grand Spectacle. In the meantime the fire had become so fierce that from the office buildings around Printing-House square it appeared that all of the city above Union square was on fire.

A change of wind enabled the firemen to limit the fire to two blocks, and the buildings on these were soon totally wrecked. They were three business buildings, a foundry, lumber yard, and eight tenement-houses, besides the Wicke cigar box factory. The loss is placed at $1,500,000 at the outside.

A Woman Murdered. Pittsburg, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Rosa Bott, living on Mohler street, East End, was murdered as she slept. Her nine-year-old daughter, who was lying beside her at the time, said her father left home after dinner, saying he would not return. Later the mother and daughter lay down on the lounge for a nap. When the child awakened she saw a man standing over the couch with a lighted match in his hand looking at her mother, who was dead. No motive is known.

Wreckage Is Picked Up. Victoria, B. C., Feb. 1.—News was brought by the steamer Queen City last night that much wreckage has been found on the west coast. Four days ago a piece of tank, believed to be from the back of a ship's boat, was picked up on Bonilla Point by Light-house Keeper Daykin. It had the name "Andrada" cut into it, and it is believed to have come from the missing ship which was blown from the Columbia river some weeks ago.

Accused of Blackmail. Fairbury, Ill., Feb. 1.—William Morton is under arrest here and will be prosecuted on a charge growing out of an attempt to blackmail Walton Bros. of this city. The firm received a letter saying its property will be burned unless $1,000 were put in a certain place last night. A decoy package was placed and hidden men arrested Morton when he approached and took it.

Earthquake in East. Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 1.—A sharp and sudden trembling of the earth was distinctly felt in Camden and the surrounding country for an area of ten miles. The shock was also felt in the region of Kensington and at various points in the central section of this city. The shock was undoubtedly that of an earthquake.

Junk-Shop Party Felt. The "junk-shop party" has succeeded the "slumming" party in New York. "You see," said a young woman, one of half a dozen girls with a chaperon, "we are out on a junk-shop party. It's such fun to rummage around among the curious old things one finds in those places, and then one finds the oddest things to carry off home, and some real useful articles, too, especially in old brass."

DOINGS OF THE LAW MAKERS.

ILLINOIS.

Thursday, January 31. Gus Nohe continues to be the star agitator in the house. He introduced a bill prohibiting railroads from issuing passes to members of the legislature and making it a felony for legislators to accept free transportation, and the bill was read the first time, advanced to second reading and made the special order for next Wednesday morning. Gus Nohe says he is on the square with his bill. He said that next Wednesday he will substitute the Wisconsin anti-pass law for his bill. In Wisconsin the law prohibits all state officials, judges, members of the legislature, etc., from accepting railroad passes.

INDIANA.

Thursday, January 31.

All other legislative business was overshadowed by resolutions introduced in both houses of the general assembly concerning the management of various state institutions. Charges of cruelty to girls at the reform school for girls in Indianapolis led to a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to make an investigation and report to the senate. This committee consists of Senators Agnew, Goodwin, Dinkley, Lambert, Cor and Purcell.

MICHIGAN.

Thursday, January 31.

The farmers scored a victory in each house and the enactment of a law prohibiting the coloring of oleomargarine to make it resemble butter is practically assured. The senate passed such a bill on third reading and the house agreed to a precisely similar measure in committee of the whole.

Business Man's Daughter Assaulted. Cleveland, O., Feb. 1.—Wilhelmina Helfrich, sixteen, daughter of Albert D. Helfrich, manager of the Hoffman Hinge company, was the victim of an attack. She had started to visit a friend, and just as she reached the residence next door to her friend's, she was struck twice on the head with a blunt instrument by some one behind her. She dropped unconscious. Her assailant then dragged her through the snow to the rear of her friend's home. Pedestrians later found her walking about in a dazed condition, staggering and covered with blood. Her recovery is doubtful. Her assailant escaped.

Dunraven's Daughter Dies.

London, Feb. 1.—Lady Rachael Charlotte Fitzgerald, eldest daughter of the Earl of Dunraven and Mount Earl, died this morning at Adare Manor, the earl's seat in Adare, County Limerick, Ireland. She gave birth to a son Jan. 20 and was supposed to be doing well. Her death was quite unexpected.

Assault on a Girl.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 1.—Miss Minnie Schell, a domestic, 20 years old, living at 99 Glen Park place was held up and assaulted in front of the above number shortly after 9 o'clock. The fellow knocked her down by a blow from his fist. As she fell she gave vent to a cry of terror and her assailant threatened to kill her if she uttered another cry. She fought him and cried till she had frightened him off. Before he left her, however, he kicked her viciously.

Dewey Was Hazed.

New York, Feb. 1.—A special to the World from Washington says: "Admiral Dewey was asked if he had been hazed while at Annapolis. 'Well,' said he, 'if eating dough, chewing the end of a hawser, going around with a shingle down my back, drinking vinegar without putting my nose in the glass, and such other trifles is being hazed, I shouldn't wonder if I was.'"

Girl Coughs Herself to Death.

New York, Feb. 1.—Overcome with grief when she saw the casket containing the body of a relative being lowered into a grave in the cemetery of the Holy Sepulcher yesterday morning, Mamie Reilly, five years old, of Harrison, N. J., was seized with a violent fit of sobbing and coughing which caused her death in a few minutes.

ARMY BILL IS COMPLETE.

The Measure Is Now Ready for Signature.

FINAL ACTION BY SENATE.

This Temporarily Sidetracks the Ship Subsidy Bill—Secretary Gage Has a Hearing Before a Committee on Revising the Banking Laws.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1.—The bill for the reorganization of the United States army passed its last stage in congress and now goes to the president for his signature. The final step was taken in the senate, where by a vote of 33 to 25 the conference report on the bill was agreed to. The house of representatives already had agreed to the report. The conference report was kept before the senate constantly, even the shipping bill giving way. Opposition to the bill continued to be vigorously expressed, Mr. Teller making an extended speech in criticism of the war department and of the measure in general. Opposition developed on the Republican side of the report, based on the alleged freedom which the conferees had taken in introducing new provisions. On the final vote several Republican senators voted with the Democrats against the report. "I should say approximately, although it is difficult to make an estimate now," said Chairman Hull of the house military committee, "that the new army will cost for the first year about $12,000,000 or $14,000,000. After this year the cost should fall below $100,000,000, because the army will not be maintained at its maximum strength. The reorganization bill will increase the number of officers in the regular army about 1,000. At present there are in the regular and provisional establishment about 1,300 officers."

Will Hurry Troops to Manila.

In anticipation of the passage of the army reorganization bill the war department has issued preparatory orders for the transportation of 5,200 regular troops to the Philippines to replace an equal number of volunteers under orders to San Francisco for discharge. The soldiers to be sent to the Philippines first include eight troops of the 5th cavalry, eight companies of the 10th infantry, eight companies of the 11th infantry and the provisional battalion of troops at the Presidio of San Francisco. There are now about 2,000 recruits at San Francisco awaiting transportation to Manila, and the number will be increased as rapidly as the recruiting officers in various parts of the country obtain the necessary material. There are now about 40,000 regular troops in the Philippines, and the problem confronting the military authorities is how to increase that number to 60,000 by July 1, when the entire volunteer army of 35,000 must be discharged.

Shipping Bill Laid Aside.

The subsidy bill having been set aside to secure action on the army reorganization bill, is no longer unfinished business, and it will require a vote of the senate to take it up again.

Political Speech in the House.

Representative Lanham (Tex.) made a speech in the house which attracted general attention. He was listened to by all the Democrats present and by many Republicans. He gave a careful outline of his views on the position and duties of his party.

Would Aid Postal Employees.

Representative Mann of Chicago was exceedingly active in the house in his efforts to engraft in the annual post-office appropriation bill provisions for the benefit of postal employees. As each item was reached Mr. Mann renewed his fight. Representative Loud (Cal.), chairman of the postoffice committee, was supported by Representative Cannon (Ill.), who was in the chair, in all points of order he made against the amendments.

Gage Talks on the Banking Bill.

Secretary Gage had a hearing before the house committee on banking and currency on the subject of revising the banking laws with a view to establishing an elastic currency based on bank assets. The bill under consideration provides a plan of guaranteed bank notes, a bank guaranty fund, annual tax on notes in circulation, and provisions to insure redemption. Mr. Gage said he regarded the measure as a step in the right direction, but he did not consider it broad enough to meet the requirements. "It was his belief that the present demand obligations of the government, the greenbacks, should be retired."

Hanna Seeks to Join a Post.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 1.—Memorial post, G. A. R., of this city has received formal application from Senator M. A. Hanna that he be permitted to become a member of that organization. The application was referred to a committee. Senator Hanna was first lieutenant of company C, 150th Ohio volunteer infantry, during the civil war.

Point to Farmer's Murder.

Onawa, Iowa, Feb. 1.—Circumstances that point to murder have come to light in the finding of the body of John Howell, a farmer. Howell's body, partly covered with sand, was found at the edge of the ice. There was blood on the remains.

Omega Oil

Gold in the Chest—If a porous plaster was the only thing which cured cold in the chest or pains in the chest, there would be some excuse for putting one on, but there's something ten times better. It's Omega Oil. Rub your chest and throat with it to-night, and to-morrow morning you'll be all right. Omega Oil is a liniment that does not burn, blister, or itch like a porous plaster. It doesn't stick to the skin like glue, either. Every mother knows that old-fashioned sweet oil is a real good remedy for rubbing on the chest when a cold has settled there, but sweet oil isn't near so good as Omega Oil. It contains a green Swiss herb that soothes, heals and subdues inflammation in a most astonishing way. It is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for.

If your dealer refuses to supply you with this wonderful Swiss green liniment, the Omega Chemical Co., 107 Broadway, New York, will mail you a bottle, prepaid, for 50c. in cash, money order or stamps. 755

The Dyspeptic was bored. Business was dull in the office, so he turned for a little conversation with his stenographer.

"Hum-m!" he remarked.

The stenographer jumped nearly a foot from her seat. She was a timid little thing and cherished a reasonable fear of her employer.

"Sir?" she queried meekly.

The Dyspeptic lit his pipe, leaned back in his chair and looked her over. She wore a frivolous silk waist, with a fussy jabot, a crinkled satin belt and a tucked skirt. "Hum!" he remarked disapprovingly.

The stenographer in her excitement struck two notes at once and punched a hole through the type ribbon.

The Dyspeptic opened his mouth once more. "If I had my way," he growled, "women would all wear uniforms."

"Wonder what he's eaten now?" was the stenographer's thought, but out loud she said, "Why, sir?"

"Why?" grunted the Dyspeptic. "So they'd have time to improve their minds. That's why. All the women think of is dress. Makes any decent man tired. It's nothing but new clothes all the time, and the old ones half worn out. Women drive their husbands to ruin with their extravagance and frivolity. Look at yourself, for instance!"

"But I haven't any husband!"

"No, but you ought to have! Spending all you earn in fripperies instead of marrying some honest young fellow and helping him!"

"Earn his living?"

"I didn't mean that!" snapped the Dyspeptic. "You women never have ers would appear in the cap and gown of academic purple, and there would be some little peculiarity to distinguish the grades. For instance, the principal of a school would have a gold tassel in her cap. Stenographers, clerks and secretaries would wear cadet blue and white, with pearl gray hats ornamented with a black band, on which their rank would appear in gold letters. Women lawyers would have dark green costumes to match their bags; they would wear black cloaks, and their belts and buttons would be of silver. Women doctors would dress in navy blue. Journalists would wear a combination of gray and red; they would wear black fedoras, and on the wide lapels of their coats the name of their paper might be embroidered in letters of gold. Editors would wear a narrow red band around their hats and managing editors a gold one. As for artists, they would dress in those warm russets so dear to their hearts. They would sport the blouse and the Tam O'Shanter, while the desired spots of color could be obtained by their flowing neckties and bright stockings.

The Dyspeptic closed his eyes with a look of supreme disgust. "Ugh," he grunted, "the woman's view of it! Frivolous, of course!"

any mind except for lovey dovey stuff and such slush. Can't you see the beauty of my idea?"

The little stenographer drew a long breath and faced her employer. "What would you dress them in?" she inquired.

"Gunny sacks or just plain gray dresses like the Quakers—anything to keep them from thinking of themselves!"

The little stenographer surveyed his rather portly form with rising indignation. Gray was not becoming to her. "How would you like to wear a suit of large plaids?" she remarked spitefully.

But the Dyspeptic was equal to the occasion. "I shouldn't care," he returned, calmly fixing her with his eye. The stenographer remembered with a chill that the day for raising salaries was not far off.

"Don't you think it would take away girls' individuality to dress them all alike?" she asked, with the laudable desire of bringing the conversation into safe channels.

"Hum-m, no! Men don't care what a woman wears. It's a girl's walk, the sparkle of her eye, the way she laughs."

"I didn't think you noticed those things," the stenographer ventured demurely.

The Dyspeptic attentively considered a crack in the ceiling.

"I think it would be a good idea to dress women according to their different professions," suggested the stenographer, who was beginning to enjoy herself.

"How's that?" he inquired suspiciously. "You wouldn't have a ballet girl walking around in her stage dress, I presume?"

"They could have two costumes, a business dress and an evening costume," she went on, calmly ignoring his remark. "The evening dress could be as the fashion dictated, but the day dress should indicate the business and rank of the wearer. Why, there are women who wear uniforms now and who look all the more attractive for it. Look at the hospital nurses, for instance. A uniform improves the looks of a man. It might if well chosen do the same for a woman."

"How would you do it?"

"Well, women of leisure would simply wear plain black costumes. Teach-

Drawing Bills for Other Lines.

The tax commission now is drawing bills covering the taxation of street railways, express companies, telephone and telegraph companies and inheritances. The bills are all to be along the lines of the recommendations of the tax commission. The street railways are to be increased $50,000 a year, and telephone and telegraph companies about $15,000. There is also strong sentiment in the assembly to place these properties on the ad valorem basis.
